COTTON WENT DOWN, THEN UP STOCK MARKET DEPRESSED. THE FUTURE SUPPLY OF MEAT

erpool stood at its weakest stage, consequently the effect upon opening prices was very marked, the declines averaging nearly 12 points. Lack of support and a selling movement caused some further leases and the market continued weak during the morning. Barly in the afternoon a better religing developed on more bad weather news, light receipts and the brisk business in the Southern spot markets. This caused a sharp upturn near the close and prices. advanced until nearly all the losses for the A Naw York firm gives the following day were regained.

There were many features to the market, though none were of great importance. NEW YORK COTTON.

The Market Opened Weak and Then Recovered the Lesses.

New York, February 25. The cotton market opened weat at a decline of 7 to 11 duta, and following the call eased off another point or so under renewed liquidation and some selling for the short as ount, which had as its most immediate in centive the caster tone of the laverpool market, which at the time of the local opening was 25-265 points lower, whereas a partial decline of 1 point was due on the
